FROM BLACK, VOICES EMERGE--

We hear the actual recorded emergency calls made by World Trade Center office workers to police and fire departments after the planes struck on 9/11, just before the buildings collapsed.

TITLE OVER: SEPTEMBER 11, 2001

We listen to fragments from a number of these calls...starting with pleas for help, building to a panic, ending with the caller's grim acceptance that help will not arrive, that the situation is hopeless, that they are about to die.

CUT TO:

TITLE OVER: TWO YEARS LATER

INT. BLACK SITE - INTERROGATION ROOM

DANIEL

I own you, Ammar. You belong to me.
Look at me.

This is DANIEL STANTON, the CIA's man in Islamabad - a big American, late 30's, with a long, anarchical beard snaking down to his tattooed neck. He looks like a paramilitary hipster, a punk rocker with a Glock.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

(explaining the rules)
If you don't look at me when I talk to you, I hurt you. If you step off this mat, I hurt you. If you lie to me, I'm gonna hurt you. Now, Look at me.

His prisoner, AMMAR, stands on a decaying gym mat, surrounded by four GUARDS whose faces are covered in ski masks. Ammar looks down. Instantly: the guards rush Ammar, punching and kicking.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Look at me, Ammar.
Notably, one of the GUARDS wearing a ski mask does not take part in the beating.

EXT. BLACK SITE - LATER

Daniel and the masked figures emerge from the interrogation room into the light of day. They remove their masks and we see that one is a beautiful young woman in her mid-twenties. She has a pale, milky innocence and bright blue eyes, thin and somewhat frail looking, yet possessing a steely core that we will come to realize is off-the-charts. This is MAYA, a CIA targeter and subject-matter expert on her first overseas assignment.

DANIEL

(to the guard)
Are we gonna board up these windows or what?

(TO MAYA)

Just off the plane from Washington, you're rocking your best suit for your first interrogation, and then you get this guy. It's not always this intense.

MAYA

I'm fine.
She's not.

DANIEL

Just so you know, it's going to take awhile. He has to learn how helpless he is. Let's get a coffee.

MAYA

No, we should go back in. Something about the strange intensity of her expression makes Daniel reconsider and he turns back to the interrogation room.

DANIEL

You know, there's no shame if you wanna watch from the monitor. She shakes her head.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Alright.
At the door, Daniel hands the ski mask back to Maya.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

You might want to put this on.

3.

MAYA

You're not wearing one. Is he ever getting out?

DANIEL

Never.

CUT TO:

INT. INTERROGATION ROOM - LATER

SUPERIMPOSE: CIA BLACK SITE - UNDISCLOSED LOCATION
Ammar, bruised from the beating, is restrained with ropes. Maya stands a few feet behind Daniel, attentive, wary of what is to come. This is her first interrogation and she is on the verge of vomiting from the stench in the room. She looks around at the sound-proofed walls, the puddles of water on the floor.

DANIEL

Right now, this is about you coming to terms with your situation. It's you and me, bro. I want you to understand that I know you, that I've been studying you for a very long time. I could have had you killed Karachi. But I let you live so you and I could talk.

AMMAR

(RESISTANT)

You beat me when my hands are tied. I won't talk to you.

DANIEL

Life isn't always fair, my friend. Did you really think that when we got you, I'd be a nice fucking guy?

AMMAR

You're a mid-level guy. You're a garbage man in a corporation. Why should I respect you?

DANIEL

And you're a money man. A paperboy!
Daniel paces around Ammar, anger rising.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

A disgrace to humanity!

4.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

You and your uncle murdered three thousand innocent people. I have your name on a five-thousand dollar transfer via Western Union to a 9/11 hijacker.
He leans into Ammar's ear. Uncomfortably close.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
And you got popped with 150 kilograms of high explosives in your house!

AND THEN YOU DARE QUESTION ME?!
And then Daniel smiles, laughs. Mercurial.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
I'm just fucking with you.
Beat. He laughs again.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
I don't want to talk about 9/11.
What I want to focus on is the Saudi group.
Daniel shows him a photo.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
That there is Hazem al-Kashmiri.
And I know this dude is up to some serious shit, and what I want from you is his Saudi email.

(PAUSE)
Feel free to jump in.

(PAUSE)
Ammar, bro, I know that you know this dude, just give me his email... and I will give you a blanket. I will give you a blanket and some solid food.
No response from Ammar. Daniel starts putting on his gloves.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
I know that you know him.

AMMAR
I told you before, I won't talk to you.

DANIEL
Have it your way.

5.

(to the masks) DANIEL (CONT'D)

Let's go.
It all happens in a flash: in one swift motion, Daniel pushes Ammar to the floor, the guards pin his limbs, and Daniel smothers Ammar's face with a towel.
Ammar thrashes. Daniel considers his next move.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

(TO MAYA)

Grab the bucket.
Maya follows Daniel's gesture to the corner of the room, where there's an ICE CHEST filled with WATER and a PLASTIC PITCHER.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Put some water in it.
She dips the pitcher in the water, hands shaking.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

C'mon, let's go.
The stress and strain on her face is enormous as she brings the bucket back to Daniel.
Daniel starts pouring the water on Ammar's face, which is now covered by a towel. Ammar thrashes with rising panic.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Hazem was a friend of Ramzi Yousef, you guys met in Tunisia back in the 70s.

AMMAR

(gasping for breath)
I don't know, you asshole.
Maya shakes her head "no."

MAYA

That's not credible.

AMMAR

(SCREAMING)

Why are you doing this to me?

DANIEL

You're a terrorist, that's why I'm doing it to you.

6.

AMMAR

Fuck you.
Daniel pours water over the towel so it hits Ammar's nose.

DANIEL

I want emails of the rest of the Saudi group. Give me emails of the rest of the Saudi group! Give me one email, and I will stop this! Ammar doesn't speak. He can't.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Who's in the Saudi group, and what's the target? Where was the last time you saw bin Laden? WHERE WAS THE LAST TIME YOU SAW BIN LADEN?

Daniel throws the pitcher, rips the rag off Ammar's mouth: and water spurts out - Ammar nearly drowned. He gasps for air.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

This is what defeat looks like, bro. Your jihad is over. Daniel stands.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Get him up. The guards bring Ammar to his feet. Daniel, shifting his persona yet again, touches Ammar's face and speaks to him with the comforting tenor of a therapist.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Try to understand the concept here. I have time, you don't. I have other things to do, you don't.

(BEAT)

It's cool that you're strong. I respect it, I do. But in the end, everybody breaks, bro. It's biology. Dan and Maya exit. They've learned nothing.

CUT TO:

EXT. ISLAMABAD, PAKISTAN - MORNING

SUPERIMPOSE: ISLAMABAD, PAKISTAN

7.

A colorful, dusty city. Busy markets. Poor children. Dense traffic. Meanwhile, across town:

EXT. DIPLOMATIC QUARTER - ISLAMABAD - DAY

National flags. Imposing buildings. Armed guards. The outpost of a superpower. Maya drives through the checkpoint and up to the main gate.

SUPERIMPOSE: UNITED STATES EMBASSY, ISLAMABAD

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - STAIRCASE - ISLAMABAD

Descending the lobby staircase with Daniel is JOSEPH BRADLEY, Chief of Station, Pakistan, a smooth, vain, sophisticated former case officer who hasn't quite buffed all the blood out of his fingernails.

BRADLEY

How did it go the other night?

DANIEL

It was good. The local cops need tactical help. But he's Tier fucking One, baby. There's your money maker.

BRADLEY

This is the guy that's KSM's nephew? What's his issue?

DANIEL

He's being a dick.

BRADLEY

If he's trying to outsmart you, tell him about your PhD.

DANIEL

I am going to have to turn up the heat. He needs to give us the Saudi group now.

They reach the lobby, where they can see Maya sitting in the holding area. They walk towards her as Bradley considers what Daniel is asking for.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - STAIRCASE/LOBBY

BRADLEY

He's gotta have that - given the family ties.
Permission granted, Daniel reassures his boss.

DANIEL

Tight with his uncle, prints all over the 9/11 money.
Daniel knocks on the glass for Maya to come in.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

(to Bradley, clocking her good looks)
Was I lying or what?
The guard opens the door and Maya comes through - not many females come through that door.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

(TO MAYA)

Maya, this is Joseph Bradley, our illustrious station chief.
(as they shake hands)
Joe and I did Iraq together.

BRADLEY

And we continue our Christian mission here. Nice to meet you.

MAYA

You too, Sir.

BRADLEY

How was your flight?
They walk down the lobby towards the Secure Wing.

MAYA

Fine.

DANIEL

She's been having a great time ever since she got in, isn't that right?

BRADLEY

How do you like Pakistan so far?

MAYA

It's kinda fucked up.

9.

BRADLEY

You volunteered for this didn't you?

MAYA

No.
Bradley smiles. He knew she didn't volunteer.
They reach a secure area and Bradley checks Maya through an electronic door.

BRADLEY

(TO MAYA)

Third floor, northeast corner.
She goes through and Daniel and Bradley watch her walk away.

DANIEL

Don't you think she's a little young for the hard stuff?

BRADLEY

Washington says she's a killer.

DANIEL
The children's crusade.

BRADLEY
They want the next generation on the field. Listen, I have a meeting with ISI in twenty minutes.

DANIEL
They're slow rolling us in Lahore - you might want to bitch about that.

BRADLEY
Did you see the cable from London?

DANIEL
Dude, I've been in a dark room with another man for the last two days.

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - MAYA'S CUBICLE

Maya finds her desk. It's covered with grime. She tries to clean it as best she can, then sits and looks at the blank log-in screen of her computer.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - CONFERENCE ROOM

A group of thirty-somethings filing in for a meeting, chatting, comradery, taking seats around a conference table.

10.

We will get to know:

JACK, mid-40s, a scruffy teddy bear, the liaison from the National Security Agency (NSA).

JESSICA, 30s, an experienced targeter, and the only woman in the station who wears a skirt.

JACK
Some dude tells the Malaysian station that his nephew works with a guy who knows a guy--

JESSICA
Here we go.

JACK
Hold on - He goes to a big feast in Bangkok about a year ago. The guest of honor? Usama bin Laden.
Laughter in the room.

JACK (CONT'D)
So I say, was Tupac there too?

JESSICA

Right, but you forgot - you forgot Mullah Omar.

J.J. and JEREMY, two case officers, continue the banter:

JEREMY

(SARCASTICALLY)

This is worth 5 million bucks.

J.J.

You know we're going to have to chase it down.

JEREMY

That's me, man. No job too small.

JACK

That's why I have a gift for you, my friend.

Jack hands Jeremy a piece of paper. Daniel and Maya enter, a little late.

DANIEL

Everyone, this is Maya. Maya, everyone.

11.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Please don't ask how it's going with Ammar because she's not going to fucking tell you.

JESSICA

Ammar is withholding?
Daniel nods.

JESSICA (CONT'D)

(reading from her

FILE)

Washington assesses that Abu Faraj is officially our new number three - JESSICA moves to a wall chart of AQ leadership and repositions Abu Faraj's mugshot to number three in the line, two down from Usama bin Laden. Meanwhile, in the background, the riffs continue -

DANIEL

- Best man for it.

JACK (O.S.)

London station is already asking if we think he's in contact with anyone in the U.K.

JEREMY

Like we're just keeping it from them.
Jessica sits back down and gets down to business.

JESSICA

The Jordanians are being really helpful with Ammar's transit papers.
Jessica passes Daniel a file.

DANIEL

Any imminent threats in here?

JESSICA

They want the Consulate, the Marriott, it's low security. And they've got Majid Kahn talking about gas stations in the US.

DANIEL

And that's a conversation?
Jessica shrugs. At this point, she believes that it is merely a conversation - not a fully realized plot.

JESSICA

Honestly? There are six hundred questions in there. I'd concentrate on Heathrow. The Saudis. Does it matter what Faraj thinks about Heathrow? How much latitude does he get to pick targets?

DANIEL

I think he'll give up the Saudis. But Heathrow is gonna be tough. Anyway. Anything from last night?

J.J.

Quetta base thinks they have a bead on the Arabs that escaped, and they're going to meet with the ISI this afternoon, hopefully to set up a raid down there.

Great.

JEREMY

And Lahore reporting ISI down there was painfully slow last night. Again. I'm beginning to think it's not incompetence.

DANIEL

I agree, I spoke to the Chief about that. Anything on bin Laden?

(reading from a cable)
A farmer on the Afghan border near Tora Bora reports: a diamond shaped pattern in the hills, tall male in the center of the diamond, flanked by four guards. It's consistent with UBL's movements.

JEREMY

That's supposed to be his royal guard?

MAYA

That's pre-9/11 behavior.
Jessica doesn't appreciate the challenge.

(CHILLY)

We don't have reason to believe he's changed security tactics.

13.

MAYA

We invaded Afghanistan. That's a reason.
And so the rivalry begins.

J. J.

Hey, boss, I got a guy for five thousand bucks, he can set up a taxi stand and snoop around a bit.

DANIEL

No, don't need him, the diamond sighting is bullshit. See if the Paks will send someone to talk to the farmer. Anything else? We need to be putting runs on the board against Faraj. Speak to the case officers who didn't see fit to make it today. And thank them.

INT. MAYA'S APARTMENT - ISLAMABAD

The loud WAILING of the early morning call to prayer from the loudspeakers of a nearby mosque wakes Maya on the couch.

CUT TO:

INT. BLACK SITE - AFTERNOON

Daniel and the guards enter Ammar's cell with Maya. Daniel switches on a floodlight, awakening Ammar.

DANI EL
Let's take it easy today, huh?
Daniel hands Ammar a bottle of orange juice and a bag of falafel.

DANI EL (CONT' D)
Hungry? The food in here sucks so I got you some of this.
Ammar grabs the lunch sack and scarfs down the falafels.

DANI EL (CONT' D)
Richard Reid, wow. I was thinking about him. The guy gets a bomb in his shoe on a plane. Unbelievable.
You know him, don't you?
Slowly, Ammar nods.

AMMAR Yes.

DANI EL
I'm glad you said that. I have an email from you to him. I've had all your coms for years, bro. Who else is in your Saudi group?

AMMAR
I just handed out some cash for them.
I didn't know who the guys were.

DANI EL
When you lie to me, I hurt you.

AMMAR Please.

DANI EL
I believe you. I do, I believe you.
Beat.

Do you want the water again, or do you want something else?

AMMAR Please.

DANI EL
Just give me a name.

AMMAR
I DON'T--
Daniel jumps up.

AMMAR (CONT'D)

I don't know.

Daniel kicks out the chair from under Ammar. The masked guards walk to the rope pulleys.

DANIEL

You see how this works? You don't mind if my female colleague sees your junk, do you?

Daniel pulls down Ammar's pants. Maya flinches at the bare nakedness.

Dude, you shit your pants.

15.

Daniel turns to Maya -

DANIEL (CONT'D)

You stay here, I'll be back.

Daniel goes out, leaving Maya standing alone in front of the naked, chained man.

Ammar looks at her imploringly and she struggles to meet his eyes.

AMMAR

Your friend is an animal. Please, help me. Please.

A long beat.

MAYA

You can help yourself by being truthful.

The door handle turns. It occurs to Maya that perhaps Daniel was testing her resilience, too, as Daniel re-enters with a DOG COLLAR in his hand.

DANIEL

This is a dog collar.

Daniel unhooks Ammar, snaps the collar and leash around his neck, as Ammar cries out against the humiliation.

Maya flinches. Daniel is relentless:

DANIEL (CONT'D)

You determine how I treat you.

Now Daniel drags Ammar on all fours, pulling him by the leash.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

I'm going to walk you.

Maya watches in horror as Daniel walks Ammar to a far corner of the room, then leans down to address his victim:

DANIEL (CONT'D)

What the fuck do you think is going on, Ammar? Wahleed has already told me that you know.

At last, Daniel reaches an area of the room where there is a large wooden box resting on a platform.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
This box sucks. I'm going to put you in it.
Ammar tries to speak but can't get a word out.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
When is the attack?

AMMAR (VERY SOFTLY)
Sunday.

DANIEL
Sunday? Sunday where? This Sunday or next Sunday?
Ammar mumbles, almost inaudibly.

Monday.

DANIEL
Is it Sunday or Monday?
Ammar doesn't answer. The masked men approach.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
Which day is it? Partial information is treated as a lie.

AMMAR Saturday.
Beat. The masked men open the box.

AMMAR (CONT'D)
Sunday!
The guards grab Ammar and carry him to his wooden tomb. He shouts with his last reserve of energy:

Monday!

DANIEL
Ammar, which day?

AMMAR (MUMBLING) Monday, Tuesday, Beat.

17.

Thursday.
Beat.

Friday.
Daniel slams the box shut. Once again, he's learned nothing.

CUT TO:

EXT. KHOBAR TOWERS - SAUDI ARABIA - DAY

ECU: a magazine CLICKS into the receiver of a black assault rifle.

The weapon, carried by a BEARDED ARAB MAN dressed in street clothes, rises to shoulder height.

INT. KHOBAR TOWERS - DAY

- The man enters the hallway of the KHOBAR RESIDENTIAL TOWERS
- And immediately opens fire on TWO WESTERN MEN he happens to find inside, killing them both.

TITLE OVER: MAY 29, 2004

- The CRACK of the shots sends the rest of the residents into a panicky, screaming dash for cover
- As he strides quickly down the hall, he finds three other RESIDENTS scrambling for safety, and shoots and kills them all.

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - CONFERENCE ROOM

CU TV: news footage of the massacre.
Daniel, Jessica, and Maya look on in defeat. The "Saudi" attack they tried to prevent by pressuring Ammar has occurred.

JESSICA

(TO DANIEL)
Don't worry about the Saudis, they'll take care of business.

DANIEL Yeah, now.

18.

JESSICA

You warned them - they didn't take you seriously - this is what happens. It's not on you.

DANIEL

Who said that? Zied? Fuck him. This is on me. Ammar is on me!! And it's on her!!
(pointing to Maya)
We can't let this be a win-win for AQ.

JESSICA

No, no, no. You had - what - days - brief custody - and an unresponsive ally. The way you do this is you look ahead. London. Heathrow. Mass casualties. That plan is still active.

MAYA

Ammar doesn't have a clue about what happened.

JESSICA

He knows.

MAYA

How?

JESSICA

You have to be really careful with people in KSM's circle - they're devious.

MAYA

He's not going to talk about attacks on the homeland. He's going to withhold operational details on the KSM network and probably on bin Laden. (flipping her argument)
But he's been in complete isolation, he doesn't know we failed. We can tell him anything.

DANIEL

Bluff him?

MAYA

He hasn't slept, Dan. He's clueless.

CUT TO:

19.

EXT. BLACK SITE - AFTERNOON

DANIEL (PRE-LAP)

You don't remember, do you? You - me: same same. Bad memory.

While GUARDS move in the deep b.g., Daniel and Maya are seated at a picnic table with an appetizing spread of Arabic food.

DANIEL (PRE-LAP) (CONT'D)

Short term memory loss is a side effect of sleep deprivation. It should come back to you.

The Guards bring a prisoner to the table and remove his hood:
Ammar. He stares weakly at the table.

AMMAR

(CAREFULLY)

I don't know. How can I remember?

MAYA

After we kept you awake for 96 hours, you gave us names of some of your brothers and saved the lives of a lot of innocent people.

DANIEL

Which is the smart thing to do, you're starting to think for yourself.
Ammar is lost. But the food is tempting.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

Eat up! You earned it.
Ammar eats.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

So you flew via Amman to Kabul to hang out with your uncle? Mukhtar.

AMMAR

How did you know that?

DANIEL

I told you man, I know you. Alright, you got me - flight manifests. It must've been pretty fucked up for you guys after 9/11. What did you do after the invasion and before you went back to Pesh?

AMMAR

After 9/11 I had to choose: fight, to protect our turf - or run.

DANIEL

(SYMPATHETIC)

You chose to fight.
Ammar looks Daniel right in the eyes.

AMMAR

I wanted to kill Americans. We tried to get into Tora Bora but the bombing was too high. We couldn't cross.

MAYA

Sorry, who is the "we" in that sentence?

AMMAR

Me and some guys who were hanging around at that time.

DANIEL

(CASUALLY)

I can eat with some other dude and hook you back up to the ceiling?

AMMAR

Hamza Rabi a, Khabab al -Masri , and Abu Ahmed.
Maya makes notes on her pad.

MAYA

Who's Abu Ahmed? I've heard of the other guys.

AMMAR

He was a computer guy with us at the time. After Tora Bora, I went back to Pesh - as you know - and he went North, I think, to Kunar.

MAYA

What's his family name?

AMMAR

Abu Ahmed al -Kwai ti .

MAYA

Abu Ahmed means "father of Ahmed", it's a kunya.

MAYA (CONT'D)

Ammar, I know the difference between a war name and an Arabic name.

DANIEL
She got you there, dude.

AMMAR
I swear to you both: I don't know his family name. I would have never asked him something like that. It's not how my uncle worked. My uncle told me he worked for bin Laden. I did see him, once, about a year ago, in Karachi. He read us all a letter from the Sheikh.

MAYA
A letter?

DANIEL
What did it say?
Daniel offers Ammar a smoke.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
Cigarette?
Ammar accepts. Daniel's lights it.

AMMAR
It said "Continue the jihad. The work will go on for a hundred years."

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY - RESEARCH ROOM

We fade into a dimly lit research room, where Maya is alone watching interrogation video recordings on an array of monitors. Some of the videos are rough; but most simply depict two people talking. The video she's watching now shows a hooded prisoner sitting in a filthy room, the walls smeared with red stains.

CU SCREEN:

SOLDIER INTERROGATOR
You and I are gonna talk about some of the guys in the training camps, yeah?
The prisoner sits in a chair. He's hooded, but relaxed.

PRI SONER
Ok.

SOLDIER INTERROGATOR
Some of these brothers have done some bad things, and what I want to do is I want to separate them from the people like you.

PRI SONER
Defi ni tely, yeah.

SOLDI ER INTERROGATOR
There was a guy called Abu Ahmed from Kuwait.

PRI SONER
Yes, I remember him. A nice guy.

SOLDI ER INTERROGATOR
How close was he? What was his relationship to the leadership?

PRI SONER
I don't know.

SOLDI ER INTERROGATOR
Did he eat with you guys - did he eat with the good guys - or did he eat with the leadership?

PRI SONER
I don't know, sir. I have no idea about things like that.

SOLDI ER INTERROGATOR
Yes you do, you don't need an idea

ABOUT THINGS-
Maya hits pause and we see that her desk is filled with open windows of interrogations: she is analyzing ten videos simultaneously, comparing them to each other.

INT. RESEARCH ROOM - MOMENTS LATER

She plays another video showing a Turkish prison.

TURKISH INTERROGATOR
When you met with Khalid Sheikh Mohammed, was this one of the facilitators?
The Interrogator flashes a picture. The prisoner moans.

TURKISH INTERROGATOR (CONT' D)
Is this Abu Ahmed?

PRI SONER
Yes.

CUT TO

INT. RESEARCH ROOM - LATER

She fast forwards a video - shot in a Polish facility. The prisoner appears to be cold.

INTERROGATOR

KSM, your boss.

PRISONER

Mukhtar?

INTERROGATOR

Mukhtar, 'potato', you say 'potahto'.
I say 'fucking KSM', but yeah,
'Mukhtar.' After Mukhtar was captured, what did Abu Ahmed do?

PRISONER

Abu Ahmed, I believe he went to work for The Sheikh.

INT. RESEARCH ROOM - LATER

Maya is still in the research room. She's been going at this for hours and looks fatigued.
CU SCREEN: a different INTERROGATOR from the previous video; PRISONER is an older man chained to a desk. The exchange is in Arabic with an English subtitle on the screen:

PRISONER

In Karachi, in 2003 or 2004.

INTERROGATOR

He was carrying a letter from bin Laden?

CUT TO:

INT. RESEARCH ROOM - LATER

Still going, looking exhausted now, Maya manipulates the controls of yet another video clip with a different INTERROGATOR and PRISONER. We're now in a Moroccan facility.
The interrogator shows him a photograph of a bearded man.
Henceforth, The Photograph.

24.

INTERROGATOR

Is that him?

PRISONER

(NODS)

Abu Ahmed.
The interrogator holds The Photograph right in front of the prisoner's face, allowing us to see it as well.

INTERROGATOR
Say again?

PRISONER
Abu Ahmed. Abu Ahmed. Abu Ahmed.
Freeze frame.

CUT TO:

INT. RESEARCH ROOM - LATER

A Yemeni prison - the dialogue is a mix of French and English:

INTERROGATOR
Abu Ahmed - is he the courier for bin Laden?

PRISONER
Who knows who works directly for bin Laden? Let's say he's part of the mix.

INTERROGATOR
Were there other people who carried messages from bin Laden?

PRISONER Sure.

INTERROGATOR
How many other people?

PRISONER (THINKING) Four or five.

INTERROGATOR
Let's talk about them--
The image freezes.
Maya stares at the screen.

25.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY - KITCHEN

Maya is in the kitchen grabbing something to eat.
Jessica, the only other person working this late, walks in, pours herself some coffee.

JESSICA
How's the needle in the haystack?

MAYA

JESSICA

Facilitators come and go, but one thing you can count on in life is that everyone wants money. The rivalry is in full bloom. Sometimes it's friendly. Sometimes it's not so friendly.

(SMILING)

You're assuming that Al Qaeda members are motivated by financial rewards. They're radicals.

JESSICA

(BIGGER SMILE)

Correct. You're assuming that greed won't override ideology in some of the weaker members.

MAYA

Money for walk-ins worked great in the cold war, I'll give you that.

JESSICA

Thank you.

MAYA

Just not sure those tactics are applicable to the Middle East.

CUT TO:

INT. FRIGATE - BLACK SITE - POLAND - DAY

At first we don't recognize the woman with heavy makeup walking down the narrow corridor, and then we realize it's Maya in disguise.

She enters a vast cavernous hold accompanied by a middle aged Afghan man, thick shouldered with years of hard experience in his kind, somewhat sad eyes. This fatherly man is HAKIM, a former political prisoner in Afghanistan and one of the CIA's most important assets. In the galley, a PRISONER is chained to a table. Hakim slides him The Photograph. The prisoner speaks in Arabic.

HAKIM

(TRANSLATING)

He says he looks like Abu Ahmed.

MAYA

Who did he work for?

Hakim translates. Then the prisoner speaks.

HAKIM

(TRANSLATING)

It was mostly with Abu Faraj - they were always together.

MAYA

What did he do for Faraj?

HAKIM

(TRANSLATING)

He carried messages from Faraj to bin Laden and from bin Laden back to Faraj.

Maya leans into Hakim -

MAYA

We need to ask him something to see if he's telling the truth. We don't know if he really knew Faraj. Hakim speaks to the prisoner.

HAKIM

He just told me the names of all of Faraj's children. I think he's telling the truth.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY - CIA SECTION

Maya is pitching Bradley in his office. Bradley sits with his feet up on his desk, holding The Photograph. Daniel is slouched on the couch in back. Jessica is perched on the arm of the couch, bare legs crossed. Bradley notices. Maya stands.

MAYA

Twenty detainees recognize that photo of Abu Ahmed. They say he's part of the inner circle of guys who were hanging out in Afghanistan pre-9/11.

(BEAT)

A lot of them say that after 9/11, he went to work for KSM.

(BEAT)

When KSM got captured, he went to work for Abu Faraj, primarily as a courier from Faraj to bin Laden.

BRADLEY

Well, that's good. You still -

MAYA

Yeah, we don't know if Abu is on the outside of the network - part of a series of cutouts and dead drops - or if he has a direct connection to bin Laden. Does bin Laden invite him into the living room and hand him a letter directly? Or is Abu just the last guy in a long line of couriers, so that's why everybody knows him?

28.

BRADLEY

That's not all you don't know. You don't have his true name, and you don't have a clue of where he is.

MAYA

We know that he's important. The fact that everybody's heard of Abu Ahmed but nobody will tell me where he is suggests that.

BRADLEY

Maybe. Detainees could withhold his location for any number of reasons. Perhaps they don't know; perhaps this Abu is just a cover story and he's really a fucking unicorn. The withholding doesn't reveal what you want it to - does it?

MAYA

No.

BRADLEY

And if you did find him, you don't know that he'd be with bin Laden.

DANIEL
We don't know what we don't know.

BRADLEY
(TO DANIEL)
What the fuck is that supposed to mean?

DANIEL
It's a tautology.

BRADLEY
(back to Maya)
Listen, not one single detainee has said that he's located with the big guy, just that he delivers messages. Am I wrong?

MAYA No.

BRADLEY
No. It's still good work.

FARAJ

MAYA

I don't believe you.
The GUARD in the room with them leans forward and SLAPS Faraj across the face.

You sound just like Bradley. He doesn't believe in my lead either.

MAYA (CONT'D)

It's a good thing because the fact that Faraj withheld on Abu Ahmed is revealing. The only other thing he lied about was the location of bin Laden himself. That means Faraj thinks Abu Ahmed is as important to protect as bin Laden. That confirms my lead.

JESSICA

Or it's confirmation bias.

(BEAT)

We're all just worried about you, okay? Is that okay to say? Maya rubs her eyes, not liking where the conversation is going. She forces a smile.

JESSICA

Possibly. But Al Qaeda needs doctors and they are short staffed and that could explain his rise. In six months to a year, if he doesn't fuck up, he could be called in to treat bin Laden. And at that moment, with 25 mil on the table, I think he gives up the Big Man. And if he doesn't, we kill him.

(CONSOLING)

Hey. Sorry, I just got here. What are you gonna do?

MAYA

I'm going to smoke everybody involved in this op, and then I'm going to kill bin Laden.

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY ISLAMABAD - CIA SECTION - A YEAR LATER

The staff has gathered to hear a word from the boss in a large conference room; it's packed shoulder to shoulder with dozens of people, including Maya, Jim, Jack, Hakim, and Bradley at the front.

GEORGE WRIGHT, Chief of the Afghanistan Pakistan Department, has just flown in from D.C. A big man, striding quickly into the room with the street roll of the Bronx projects he grew up in, George looks ready for a brawl.

GEORGE

I want to make something absolutely clear.

(MORE)

GEORGE (CONT'D)

If you thought there was some secret cell somewhere working Al Qaeda, I want you to know that you're wrong. This is it. There's no working group coming to the rescue.
He stares at his staff.

GEORGE (CONT'D)

There's nobody else, hidden away on some other floor. There is just us. And we are failing. We're spending billions of dollars. People are dying. We're still no closer to defeating our enemy.

PACING NOW:

GEORGE (CONT'D)

They attacked us on land in 98, by sea in 2000, and from the air in 2001. They murdered three thousand of our citizens in cold blood, and they've slaughtered our forward deployed. And what the fuck have we done about it?

(YELLING NOW)

What have we done?

(PAUSE)

We have twenty leadership names and we've only eliminated four of them.
Beat.

GEORGE (CONT'D)

I want targets! Do your fucking jobs, bring me people to kill!

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - LATER

The office has grown bigger and busier and the cubicle maze is filled with many new faces of young agents excited to be in Pakistan.

Sitting alone at her desk we find Maya just as she's finishing a report. She gets up, crosses the room and goes to the desk of a young woman who reminds us in her idealistic enthusiasm of the way Maya was six years ago. This is DEBBIE.

DEBBIE

Hi. I painstakingly combed through everything in the system and found this.

53.

She hands Maya a file.

DEBBIE (CONT'D)

It's him. He was one of ten names on a watch list sent to us by the Moroccans after 9/11: Ibrahim Sayeed. They told us to watch out for him, apparently they think his whole family and extended family is bad and has ties to KSM.

(BEAT)

He was picked up for fake papers and a doctored exit visa leaving Afghanistan, traveling through Morocco en route to Kuwait. Abu Ahmed al-Kuwaiti. This must be Abu Ahmed.

MAYA

Doesn't matter, but I wish I had that five years ago. How come I never saw it before?

DEBBIE

Nobody saw it, most likely. There was a lot of white noise after 9/11, countries wanting to help out, we got millions of tips and...

(SHRUGS)

Things got lost in the shuffle.
Human error.

Maya turns her attention back to the WHITE BOARD and as Debbie keeps talking we follow Maya's gaze across the row of MUG SHOTS of Al Qaeda personnel. While a few of the men are African or are distinctive looking for other reasons, most of them look fairly similar in that they're all wearing the same type of clothes and have the same trademark long gnarly beards.

DEBBIE (CONT'D)

(PRESSING ON)

Anyway I thought you should know about it.

(PLUS)

I just want to say I've heard a lot about you. You inspired me to come to Pakistan.

Maya's eyes narrow. She keeps looking at the WHITE BOARD

DEBBIE (CONT'D)

Maybe you'll let me buy you a kabob sometime?

54.

MAYA

(DISTRACTEDLY)

Don't eat out. It's too dangerous.
Maya stares at the Al Qaeda mugshots - a thought crosses her mind.

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - BRIEFING ROOM - NIGHT

Maya on the speaker phone to Daniel. We intercut. Daniel is now a suit in Langley.

MAYA

(OVER SPEAKER)

Dan, Debbie found Abu Ahmed!

DANIEL

Fuck. Really?

MAYA

(OVER SPEAKER)

He was in the files this whole time.

The family name is Sayeed.

DANIEL

Ok, but he's dead. So doesn't that make him a little less interesting to you?

MAYA O.S.

He may not be. We now know that Abu Ahmed is one of eight brothers. All the brothers in the family look alike. Three of them went to Afghanistan. Isn't it possible that when the three eldest brothers grew beards in Afghanistan, they started to look alike? I think the one calling himself Abu Ahmed is still alive. The picture we've been using is wrong. It's of his older brother, Habeeb. He's the one that's is dead.

DANIEL

Okay, what are you basing this on?

INT. BRIEFING ROOM - CONTINUOUS

MAYA

We have no intercepts about Abu Ahmed dying.

(MORE)

MAYA (CONT'D)

We just have a detainee who buried somebody who looked like Abu Ahmed. But if somebody as important as Abu Ahmed had died, they'd be talking about it online in chat rooms all over the place. Plus, the detainee said that Habeeb died in 2001. We know that Abu Ahmed was alive then, trying to get into Tora Bora with Ammar. That means it's probably one of the other brothers that's dead.

DANIEL O.S.

In other words, you want it to be true.

MAYA

Yes, I fucking want it to be true. Maya slams the desk.

DANIEL O.S.

Calm down.
Beat.

MAYA
I am calm.

DANIEL O.S.
State your request.

MAYA
Move heaven and earth and bring me this fucking Sayeed family's phone number.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS, COUNTER TERRORISM CENTER DIRECTOR -

LANGLEY, VA. - DAY

A dark (window shades down) executive office, where in the shadows a white American man in a nice suit is kneeling on a prayer rug and saying the Islamic daily prayers. Daniel waits as the man recites the prayers and presses his pale forehead to the carpet. This is WOLF. He is the head of the agency's COUNTER TERRORISM CENTER (George's boss).

DANIEL
As-Salamu alaykum.

56.

WOLF Alaykum salam.

DANIEL
I need a couple hundred thousand.
Four max.

WOLF
Where you gonna get that?

DANIEL
From you.

WOLF
You think so?

DANIEL
This could crack open the facilitator Maya's been looking for by giving us a phone number.

(BEAT)
She's your killer, Wolf. You put her on the field.
(reciting a phrase)

from the KORAN, in Arabic, then loosely

TRANSLATING)

Allah rewards those who strive and fight over those that sit behind a desk.

WOLF nods. If the blatant attempt to play on his Muslim belief bothers him, he doesn't show it at all.

WOLF

As you know, Abu Ghraib and Gitmo fucked us. The detainee program is now fly paper. We got senators jumping out of our asses, and the Director is very concerned. They will not stop until they have a body.
There it is. The quid pro quo. There's a reason he's called The Wolf.
Daniel considers all that he'll go through if he volunteers to be the fall guy for the controversial program.

DANIEL

I ran it. I'll defend it.

After a few sips of his drink.

DANIEL

It's good to be back in Kuwait.
It's good to see you again, it's been awhile.
The businessman doesn't answer.

DANIEL (CONT'D)

I need a favor.

KUWAITI BUSINESSMAN

Why should I help you?

DANIEL

Because we're friends.

KUWAITI BUSINESSMAN

You say we are friends. How come you only call me when you need help?
But when I need something - you are too busy to pick up the phone. I don't think we are friends.

DANIEL
Fair enough. How about a V10 Lamborghini? How's that for friendship?

EXT. LAMBORGHINI DEALERSHIP - KUWAIT CITY - NIGHT

They wait while a Lamborghini SALESMAN, disheveled, clearly just awakened, unlocks the door of the dealership.

DANIEL
(to the Kuwaiti

The poor fucker had to get out of bed.
(to the Salesman)
As-salamu alaykum. Thanks my friend.

INT. LAMBORGHINI DEALERSHIP platforms. While the Kuwaiti businessman peers inside a silver model, Daniel confers with the salesman like he's bought twenty of these cars.

DANIEL
Is this a Balboni? Fuck me. This is nice. What are you thinking?

KUWAITI BUSINESSMAN
I think I'll choose this one.
The salesman retreats to a back office.

DANIEL
That's a nice choice, my friend.
Daniel gives the Kuwaiti a slip of paper.

KUWAITI MAN Who is it?

DANIEL
Who do you think? The guy's a terrorist. His mother lives here.
I just need her phone number.

KUWAITI MAN
There will be no repercussions in Kuwait?

DANIEL
Somebody might die at some point in Pakistan.

They shake hands.

EXT. ISLAMABAD EMBASSY - THIRD STORY BALCONY - DAY

Maya chews on a peanut butter & jelly sandwich. Jack calls her on her cell.

MAYA

Hey, Jack.

59.

JACK

You're not gonna like this, he's on the phone, but there's no team to deploy right now.

Fuck.

She dashes out runs down the hall to an Exit sign - bursts through the door to a staircase -

INT. EMBASSY STAIRCASE

- Flies down the staircase - down to another floor, barges through the door -

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - SECURITY BAY - DAY

The station's surveillance team leader, LARRY, unstraps his flack vest. He looks like the kind of guy you don't mess with...so of course Maya barges into his space like a locomotive.

MAYA

How come you haven't deployed a team to stay in Rawalpindi?

LARRY

For one thing, it's dangerous. For another, the area is too congested for us to be effective without some predictive intelligence.

MAYA
That's why you should forward deploy - so you can shorten your response time.

LARRY
Still, it wouldn't work.

MAYA Why?

LARRY
The guy never stays on the phone long enough.

MAYA
You haven't tried.

LARRY
Look, I don't have the personnel.

60.

MAYA That's bullshit.

LARRY
As it is, my guys don't get any sleep tracking the threats within Pakistan.
Larry pushes past her to leave, and she follows him.

MAYA
Right, I understand. But I don't really care if your guys get sleep or not.
Maya looks at Larry's team sleeping on the couch.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY AMERICAN BAR - LATER

The conversation continues in the bar, for Maya has not relented, although the tone is softer now. She offers Larry a beer. He takes it.

LARRY
This guy you're obsessed with, what's his name again?

MAYA
Abu Ahmed al Kuwaiti is the nom de guerre. His true name, we think, is Ibraheem Sayeed. His family lives in Kuwait.

LARRY Wasn't it, like, eight brothers - and a million cousins - that we know about - anyone could be calling home -

MAYA

I know -

LARRY

- It's not like he's saying, "Hey mom, it's me, the terrorist."

MAYA

Over the course of two months, he's called home from six different pay phones, from two different cities, never using the same phone twice. And when his mother asked him where he was, he lied. He said that he was in a place in the country with bad cell reception -- implying he was in the Tribals -- but he was in a market in Peshawar. I'm sorry, but that's not normal guy behavior. That's tradecraft.

LARRY

Maybe he just doesn't like his mom?

(PAUSE)

Look, if he talks about an operation, or refers to anything remotely fishy, I'll get on him. Okay?

MAYA

No. Not okay. Look, Abu Ahmed is too smart to tip his hand by talking about ops on the phone: he works for bin Laden. The guys that talk about ops on the phone don't get that job. Larry looks away.

MAYA (CONT'D)

A lot of my friends have died trying to do this.

(PAUSE)

I believe I was spared so I could finish the job. The girl is a true believer - as pure as they come. Larry looks at her. Her sincerity is persuasive. And just like that, he decides to help her.

CUT TO:

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION CUBICLE HALLWAY

The TV news report continues playing in the bg. Bradley is moving as fast down a hallway. Coming towards him like a shark from the other end of the hallway: Maya. Bradley looks determined not to deal with her right now, and lowers his head, but she spreads her arms slightly and basically blocks his passage through the hallway

MAYA

I really need to talk to you about beefing up our surveillance operation on the caller.

BRADLEY

We don't have a surveillance operation on the caller.

(turning to Maya)

Someone just tried to blow up Times Square and you're talking to me about some facilitator who some detainee seven years ago said might have been working with Al Qaeda?

Maya is practically shaking with zealous rage at her inability to bend Bradley to her will.

MAYA

He's the key to bin Laden.

BRADLEY

I don't fucking care about bin Laden. I care about the next attack. You're going to start working on American Al Qaeda cells. Protect the homeland.

MAYA

bin Laden is the one who keeps telling them to attack the homeland.

MAYA (CONT'D)

If it wasn't for him, Al Qaeda would still be focused on overseas targets. If you really want to protect the homeland, you need to get bin Laden.

BRADLEY

(ANGRY)

This guy never met bin Laden. This guy is a free lancer working off the fucking internet. No one has even talked to bin Laden in four years: he's out of the game, he may well even be dead but you know what you're doing? You're chasing a ghost while the whole fucking network grows all around you!

For a moment she is silenced by Bradley's reprimand but then Maya's obsession speaks for her - and like a woman possessed she recklessly goes at him:

MAYA

You just want me to nail some low level Mullah-crack-a-dulla so that you can check that box on your resume that says while you were in Pakistan you got a real terrorist. But the truth is you don't understand Pakistan, and you don't know Al Qaeda. Either give me the team I need to follow this lead, or the other thing you're gonna have on your resume is being the first Station Chief to be called before a congressional committee for subverting the efforts to capture or kill bin Laden.

BRADLEY

You're fucking out of your mind.

MAYA
I need four techs in a safe house in Rawalpindi and four techs in a safe house in Peshawar. Either send them out or send me back to DC and explain to the Director why you did it.

INT. AMERICAN EMBASSY CIA SECTION - BRIEFING ROOM

We focus on a MAP of Pakistan on the wall. Maya is indicating neighborhoods in Rawalpindi. She's briefing Bradley, Hakim, Larry and a few other people.

MAYA

It would be convenient for him to drop tapes off if he's sending either from bin Laden or from an intermediary. When he wants to make a call, he leaves the house, walks a few blocks, then switches on the phone. We need to keep canvassing the neighborhood until we find him.

65.

We got a signal on Tipu Road for ten minutes. Then he went to Umar Road for five minutes. Nogaza Road. Darya Abad. That's in the Umar Road area. In Rawalpindi: Haider Road, Roomi Road. Sometimes he calls every two weeks - sometimes every three - there's no consistency - I can't predict when he's gonna make another call because the guy's erratic.

MAYA

Do you think it's intentional?

JACK

It might be. Maybe it just looks erratic to us. I just can't tell.

STEVE
Basically we had a guy who rolled with Al Qaeda and did services for them. We lost him for seven years and now we found him again -- and boy does he have a really nice house. Is that it?

MAYA (CONT'D)
The question is, 'would he allow himself to be protected by the Paks?' I mean, why would he trust them? He tried to kill Musharaf. Steve considers a reply, but the meeting principals are filing in, including Daniel, and when Steve sees the CIA DIRECTOR enter the room, he clears the head of the table.

CIA DIRECTOR
Go ahead.

STEVE

If you take a right out of Islamabad and drive about forty-five minutes North, you'll find yourself here in Abbottabad. A middle class community - some ex-military - not particularly interesting to us. Except we did find this compound, which is unique. We got a sixteen foot wall around the entire perimeter, the windows are blacked out. It's a fortress.

CIA DIRECTOR

Can't you put a camera somewhere - in the trees - to get a look into the main house?

GEORGE

It will probably be discovered.

CIA DIRECTOR

We have to get a look into the house. The Director moves to the satellite image.

Alright, what's this? This cluster of buildings down here.

GEORGE

The PMA - The Pakistan Military Academy. It's their West Point.

CIA DIRECTOR

And how close is that to the house?

GEORGE

About a mile.
A WOMAN'S voice from the back of the room.

76.

MAYA O.S.

4,221 feet. It's closer to eight-tenths of a mile.

CIA DIRECTOR

Who are you?

MAYA

I'm the motherfucker that found this place, Sir.
The boss studies her for a moment then turns back to the model.

CIA DIRECTOR

I want to know more about who's inside this house by the end of the week.

The brass files out, leaving Steve and Maya.

STEVE
"Motherfucker?" Really?

CUT TO:

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - AF/PAK DIVISION - DAY

Maya sits at her desk, frustrated, then walks down the aisle of cubicles to the glass wall of George's office. She grabs a red marker.

MAYA
(through the glass)
Morning, George.
In red magic marker, Maya writes the number 21 on the glass.
Then circles it.
George looks up.

MAYA (CONT'D)
Twenty-one days. It's been twenty-one days since we found the house and nothing's happened!

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - PREDATOR BAY - NIGHT

We see a drone-fed overhead IMAGE of the bin Laden house in real time with a resolution of 100 feet. Maya stares at the screen, trying to decipher the shapes moving beneath her, thousands of miles away.

77.
The BLIPS move in increments, shadows lengthen.

CUT TO:

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - AF/PAK DIVISION - DAY

ECU - Maya erases the "51" on George's wall and replaces it with "52."
George looks away.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS MAYA'S DESK - LATER

Maya sits at her desk. Her phone rings.

MAYA (INTO PHONE)
Yeah?

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - PREDATOR BAY

STEVE stares at drone image of the COMPOUND, which is under the joystick control of an IMAGERY TECHNICIAN.

STEVE
Swing by, I want to show you something.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS MAYA'S DESK

Maya jumps up from her desk.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - PREDATOR BAY - MOMENTS LATER

Maya walks in. Steve shows her images on the large monitor.

STEVE
This is from a few minutes ago.
We've got two males, two females, and seven kids.
Maya points to one of the shapes in the courtyard.

MAYA Who's that?

STEVE I'm saying that's Bushra. The brother's wife.

MAYA
How do you know the gender?

78.

STEVE (points on screen, to a thin line)
This is a clothes-line here, for laundry. Men don't mess with the wash.
We watch that shape move away from the clothes-line and back to the house.

STEVE (CONT'D)
It takes her about four seconds to move from there to the front door.
So she's on the older side.

MAYA
What's that up there?
(pointing to the other SHAPES)

STEVE
Those are kids. They're shuffling around, sword-fighting or something with sticks.

(POINTING AGAIN)
You can see their height relative to this - these are cows - so they're probably between seven and nine. Boys.

Another FIGURE comes out of the house and moves to the clothes-line and grabs some laundry.

MAYA
Your female is moving fast.

STEVE
That's what I wanted to show you.
(to the Imagery TECHNICIAN)

Can we pause this please?

(TO MAYA)
That's not the same lady. That's female #3.

MAYA
So you found two males, three females?

STEVE That's correct.
Maya suddenly gets it.

79.

MAYA
You're missing a male.

STEVE Yes we are.

MAYA Wow.

INT. WHITE HOUSE - NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL S.C.I.F. -

CONTINUOUS
George is on one side of a conference table, on the other side is the DEPUTY NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR, THE SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE DEPUTY NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR, and the NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR.

GEORGE
If there are three females, there ought to be three males. Observant Muslim women either live with parents or with their husbands. We think there's a third family living in the house.

SUPERIMPOSE: SITUATION ROOM - THE WHITE HOUSE

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR
So this third male that you've identified as possibly being bin Laden, do I just give up all hope of ever seeing a photograph of him?

GEORGE
Hope? Hope is not a targeting layer. You give up your hope right now. We scanned for heat signatures, but we can't validate if it's a man or a woman up there. We found a safe house, but we can't get a vantage point to fire a telescope over the balcony wall.

EXT. COMPOUND - ABBOTTABAD - MORNING

A DOCTOR comes to the compound offering immunizations. One of the women lets him in, and he offers polio vaccines to the children.

GEORGE
We talked about burrowing a pin hole camera but there's a high risk of discovery.

(MORE)

GEORGE (CONT'D)
We have explored the possibility of digging tunnels, of sending hot air balloons, of re-routing supply C-130's to take a peek, but that might be too alerting. We've looked for ways of collecting available DNA from his trash - you know, looking for his toothbrush, but they burn the trash. We started a vaccination program, we sent a doctor to the house, to see if he could pull blood. A lady in a black burkha rushes out and angrily shoos the doctor away.

GEORGE (CONT'D)
That didn't work out. We thought about sending a guy with a bucket to pull a sample from the sewer to analyze his fecal matter.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE ADVISOR
What was wrong with that, exactly?
He looks up.

GEORGE

What was wrong with that? The sample would be too diluted.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

And it's asking too much to get a voice confirmation with him on the phone?

GEORGE

They don't make telephone calls from the compound. We pulled the cell tower nearby.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

And I'm also going to give up hope that he might ever get in that white SUV and drive around a bit and we could see him? Don't they get groceries.

GEORGE

The unidentified third male does not get groceries. He does not leave the compound. He does not present himself for photographs.

GEORGE (CONT'D)

When he needs fresh air, he paces around beneath a grape arbor, but the leaves are so thick they obscure our satellite views. This is a professional attempt to avoid detection - real tradecraft. The only people we've seen behave this way are other top level Al Qaeda operatives.

The National Security Advisor nods to his Special Assistant who slides a big folder across his desk to George.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

We did a Red Team on your analysis. According to them, this behavior could belong to someone other than Al Qaeda.

DEPUTY NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

They did give a forty percent chance that the unidentified third man is a senior Al Qaeda operative. But they also said there's a thirty-five percent chance he's a Saudi drug

DEALER
(reading from the BINDER)

A fifteen percent chance that he's a Kuwaiti arms smuggler, a ten percent chance that he's one of the relatives of the brothers.

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE ADVISOR
Basically, we agree with you, the house screams security, it screams someone who wants privacy, it even screams 'bad guy', but it does not scream bin Laden.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR
You get the point.

(BEAT)
If you can't prove it's bin Laden, at least prove it's not somebody else, like a drug dealer.
Beat.
The meeting is adjourned.
As they walk out --

82.

GEORGE
You know we lost our ability to prove that when we lost the detainee program.

(BEAT)
Who the hell am I supposed to ask?
Some guy in Gitmo who is all lawyered up? He'll just tell his lawyer to warn bin Laden.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR
You'll think of something.

CUT TO:

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - AF/PAK DIVISION - DAY

Maya is back at George's office, keeping track of time for us by writing each passing day on the window of George's office.

We watch as she erases the numbers in red and writes new ones. 78.

Time passes.

98. 99. 100.

100 days. She underscores the numerals in thick magic marker.

CUT TO:

INT. WHITE HOUSE - NATIONAL SECURITY COUNCIL S.C.I.F. - DAY

The same group around the same conference table.

GEORGE

He'd be the first successful drug dealer never to have dealt drugs. He has no internet access to the house. He makes no phone calls either in or out. Who's he selling to, who's he buying from, how's he making his money? And if you're going to say he's retired, I'd say where's his swimming pool, where's the gold cage with the falcons? And why does he send his courier to the two cities in Pakistan we most associate with Al Qaeda, that have nothing particularly to do with heroin production?

The National Security Advisor taps his pencil impatiently.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

The President is a thoughtful, analytical guy. He needs proof.

CUT TO:

INT. WHITE HOUSE HALLWAY

The National Security Advisor and his team file out. George approaches.

GEORGE

I have to admit, I just don't get the rhythms of politics.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR

You think this is political? If this was political we'd be having this conversation in October when there's an election bump. This is pure risk. Based on deductive reasoning, inference, supposition and the only human reporting you have is six years old, from detainees who are questioned under duress. The political move here is to tell you to go fuck yourself, and remind you that I was in the room when your old boss pitched WMD Iraq...at least there you guys brought photographs.

GEORGE

You know, you're right, I agree with everything you just said. What I meant was, a man in your position, how do you evaluate the risk of not doing something, the risk of potentially letting bin Laden slip through your fingers?

George shakes his head with an "aww shucks" kind of shake.

GEORGE (CONT'D)

That is a fascinating question.

George walks away. After a beat, the National Security advisor calls after him.

Hey.

George turns around. The National Security Advisor approaches him.

84.

NATIONAL SECURITY ADVISOR (CONT'D)

(Lowering his voice)

I'm not saying we're gonna do it.

But the President wants to know: if we were going to act, how would we do it? Give us options.

CUT TO:

EXT. AIR FORCE BASE - AIRPLANE HANGAR - DAY

SUPERIMPOSE: AREA 51 - SOUTHERN NEVADA

Doors of a HANGAR open in front of a large crowd that includes several White House guys, a General, and a squadron of Navy SEALs, including PATRICK, JUSTIN, JARED, SABER, TWO SOAR PILOTS, and some members of the Af-Pak department, George, Daniel, Hakim, and of course, Maya. The doors grind open to reveal: TWO STEALTH BLACKHAWKS

GENERAL

I actually tried to kill this program a couple of times. They've gone through an initial round of testing, and they have excellent radar defeat - we just haven't tested them with people in them yet.

The General continues his briefing.

GENERAL (CONT'D)

You'll notice these stealth panels similar to what we use on the B2 - (pointing to the rotors)

- The rotors have been muffled with decibel killers - it's slower than a Blackhawk and lacks the offense.

But it can hide.

JUSTIN

Excuse me. Can I ask a question?
What do we need this for in Libya?
Gaddafi's anti-air is virtually non-existent.
Maya looks over, not sure what to say.

GEORGE

Gentlemen, can I have your attention?
My name is George. I run the Af-Pak division at CTC, and I'm primary on this for the agency. This is a title fifty operation.

85.

GEORGE (CONT'D)

Some of us have worked together before. This is a good one. Maya, do you want to brief them?
Maya looks at the SEALs. Folds her arms. This isn't going to be easy.

MAYA

There are two narratives about the location of Osama bin Laden.
This registers on the SEALs.

MAYA (CONT'D)

The one that you're most familiar with is that UBL is hiding in a cave in the Tribal Areas, that he's surrounded by a large contingent of loyal fighters.
Beat.

MAYA (CONT'D)

But that narrative is pre- 9/11 understanding of UBL.
The second narrative is that he's living in a city - living in a city with multiple points of egress and entries and with access to communications so that he can keep in touch with the organization. You can't run a global network of interconnected cells from a cave.
Beat.

MAYA (CONT'D)

We've located an individual we believe based on detainee reporting is bin

Laden's courier. He's living in a house in Abbottabad, Pakistan. And we assess that one of the other occupants of the house is UBL.

JUSTIN

Excuse me. You got an intel source on the ground?

MAYA

No.

86.

JUSTIN

No? Okay, so how do you know it's bin Laden? We've been on this op before, you know.

MAYA

Bin Laden uses a courier to interact with the outside world. By locating the courier, we've located bin Laden.

PATRICK

That's really the intel? That's it?

MAYA

Quite frankly, I didn't even want to use you guys, with your dip and your velcro and all your gear bullshit. I wanted to drop a bomb but people didn't believe in this lead enough to drop a bomb, so they're using you guys as canaries on the theory that if bin Laden isn't there, you can sneak away and no one will be the wiser.

(BEAT)

But bin Laden is there - and you're going to kill him for me.

PATRICK

(SOFTENING)

Bullets are cheap.

CUT TO:

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - GEORGE'S OFFICE - DAY

George is shaking his head as he talks to Wolf.

GEORGE

They are nervous downtown. I don't think we'll get approval this decision cycle.

They look up and notice that Maya is standing outside George's office staring at them through the glass.
She angrily wipes the number 128 off the window and changes it to 129.

WOLF

It's her against the world.

87.

GEORGE

Oh yeah.

CUT TO:

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - CAFETERIA - DAY

George is pulling his tray away from the food service court when Maya ambushes him.

MAYA

We've spun up the SEALs - we've done everything humanly possible to collect on the compound, and the collection is not going to get any better.

GEORGE

We have to keep working it.

MAYA

You're going to come into work one day, and there's going to be a black moving van and a 'for sale' sign in front of that compound.
George drops his tray down.

GEORGE

Maya, you didn't prove it.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - 7TH FLOOR - CONFERENCE ROOM - DAY

Sitting around the table are the CIA Director, JEREMY, Wolf, the DEPUTY DIRECTOR, George, Daniel, Steve and a few other people we don't know. At the far end of the table are back benchers, including Maya.

CIA DIRECTOR

I'm about to go look the President in the eye and what I'd like to know, no fucking bullshit, is where everyone stands on this thing. Now, very simply. Is he there or is he not fucking there?
He looks to the Deputy Director.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR
We all come at this through the filter of our own past experiences. I remember Iraq WMD very clearly, I fronted that and I can tell you the case for that was much stronger than this case.

CIA DIRECTOR
Yes or no.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR
We don't deal in certainty, we deal in probability. I'd say there's a sixty percent probability he's there.
The CIA Director points to Wolf.

WOLF
I concur. Sixty percent.

GEORGE
I'm at eighty percent. Their OPSEC is what convinces me.

CIA DIRECTOR
You guys ever agree on anything?

DANIEL
Well, I agree with sixty, we're basing this mostly on detainee reporting and I spent a bunch of time in those rooms - who knows?
Maya shoots Daniel a look. What a traitor.

DANIEL (CONT'D)
I'd say it's a soft sixty, sir. I'm virtually certain there's some high value target there, I'm just not sure it's bin Laden.
The CIA Director leans back in his chair.

CIA DIRECTOR
This is a cluster-fuck, isn't it?

JEREMY
I'd like to know what Maya thinks.

DEPUTY DIRECTOR
We're all incorporating her assessment into ours.
Maya can't take it anymore:

MAYA
One hundred percent, he's there - okay, fine, ninety-five percent because I know certainty freaks you guys out - but it's a hundred!

89.

INT. CIA HEADQUARTERS - 7TH FLOOR - HALLWAY

The CIA Director walks with Jeremy towards the elevator.

CIA DIRECTOR

They're all cowed. What do you think of the girl?

JEREMY

I think she's fucking smart.
As the door closes.

CIA DIRECTOR

We're all smart, Jeremy.

INT. LANGELY CAFETERIA

Maya is eating lunch by herself when she's startled to see the CIA Director standing by her table.

CIA DIRECTOR

May I join you?
She nods, gulps.

(SITTING)

How long have you worked for the CIA?

MAYA

Twelve years. I was recruited out of high school.

CIA DIRECTOR

Do you know why we did that?

MAYA

I don't think I can answer that question, sir. I don't think I'm allowed to answer.

CIA DIRECTOR

What else have you done for us besides bin Laden?

MAYA

Nothing. I've done nothing else.
He evaluates her... weighing her certainty against his decades of Washington experience.

90.

CIA DIRECTOR

Well, you certainly have a flare for it.

No offense.

PATRICK

I do.

JUSTIN

What part convinced you?
Patrick motions to Maya.

PATRICK

Her confidence.
Maya smiles, laughs.

JUSTIN

Really? Okay. That's the kind of concrete data point I'm looking for. He shakes his head.

JUSTIN (CONT'D)

If her confidence is the one thing that's keeping me from getting ass-raped in a Pakistani prison... I don't know. I'm gonna be honest with you though, I guess I'm cool with it.

91.
They bump fists, laughing. Maya's cell phone rings. She moves aside to answer it.
We INTERCUT with George in his Langley office.

GEORGE
Maya, I wanted you to hear it first.
You know that thing we talked about?
It's going to happen.

MAYA When?

GEORGE
Tonight. Good luck.

The rest of the P51 SEALS breach a gate to the courtyard of the Main House. The gate flies open in a fiery ball.

CUT TO:

EXT. COMPOUND WALLS OUTSIDE MAIN GATE - CONTINUOUS

SEALS jump out of P52, rush to the outer wall and set breaching charges on a gate... While Hakim, the DOG HANDLER, and another SEAL peel off down the block Saber and his team stand by as BOOM!!!, The gate charges go off...only to reveal a BRICK WALL behind the gate.

SABER

That's not a door.

SEAL

Failed breach.

They hustle to the next entry way and prepare another breach

CUT TO:

EXT. MAIN HOUSE - COURTYARD

The COMMANDING OFFICER hears that the SEALS outside are preparing a charge. SEAL MIKE radios in

SEAL MIKE (O. S.)

(INTO RADIO)
This is Echo 11, we're going to breach the main gate.

COMMANDING OFFICER

(INTO RADIO)
Negative. I'm internal, I'll let you in.
The Commanding Officer opens the gate and the other SEALs walk inside. As a group, they move towards the main house, arriving at the South side front door. The door is open and they enter -

INT. MAIN HOUSE FIRST FLOOR - CONTINUOUS

Piercing the first floor darkness with their infra red lights, the SEALs advance slowly into the first floor hallway.
Piles of household clutter, stacked high in bizarre shapes, greet them like the innards of a haunted house. One of the SEAL's catches movement: A figure with an AK-47 scrambling through clutter, then disappearing around a corner.

JUSTIN

Abrar!
The figure, Abu Ahmed's brother, ABRAR, re-appears at the end of the hallway. He pokes his head out - 100.

- And is shot by Justin. He falls out of view, whimpering in pain.

INT. MAIN HOUSE - FIRST FLOOR HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Justin walks quickly to Abrar.

INT. MAIN HOUSE - FIRST FLOOR SIDE ROOM - CONTINUOUS

ABRAR is down, bleeding.
- Justin fires another round into Abrar as ABRAR'S WIFE comes flying in from the sleeping quarters and shields him with her body.
- Justin shoots her. She falls...Abrar is underneath her - he is still breathing, gasping and
- Justin shoots him again, silencing him
- Then looks to his wife and assesses her condition
- Badly wounded, faint breathing, life fading from her eyes...
- Justin turns away

INT. MAIN HOUSE - FIRST FLOOR HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

Justin and a BREACHER proceed down the hall to the heavy gate that blocks access to the stairway while another SEAL stays behind. Somewhere, children are screaming.

JUSTIN

Shut those fucking kids up.

O.S. the kids quiet down.

JUSTIN (CONT'D)

Talk to me.

BREACHER

There's no fucking way we want to blow this thing. The gate is solid.

MIKE (O.S.)

(OVER RADIO)

This is Echo 11 - we're at our primary set point, prepping to breach.

JUSTIN

(INTO RADIO)

Wait, Echo 11 - we're internal on the south side - this is a negative breach.

MIKE

(OVER RADIO)

(to the Breacher)

Stay with these kids. Don't let them in the back room.

CUT TO:

EXT. MAIN HOUSE - A MOMENT LATER

In the regrouping that occurs on the side of the main house, Justin and Patrick find themselves side by side - and the old friends take a moment to reconnect while the rest of the team places charges and prepares for the next phase of the assault.

PATRICK

(QUIETLY)

You good?

JUSTIN

Yeah. I forgot...were we supposed to crash that helo?

Patrick allows himself a smile.

PATRICK
Ibrahim tried to shoot me through the door. I popped him from the outside.

JUSTIN
I fucking smoked Abrar and his wife.

(SHIFTING TONE) (alt: I think she was PREGNANT)

PATRICK Still alive?

JUSTIN
She's gonna bleed out.

PATRICK
What a fuckin' mess -
The door blows - and they keep moving - 102.

INT. MAIN HOUSE - FIRST FLOOR HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

The SEALS reach the staircase, which is sealed off by a separate metal gate than the one inside the hallway.

SEAL
Breacher up.
A charge is prepared. Justin, who is now inside one of the side rooms, sees Jared standing close to the door.

JUSTIN
Hey man, move!
Jared moves just as -

EXT. MAIN HOUSE FIRST FLOOR HALLWAY - CONTINUOUS

- Booom!
-- The door FLIES like a missile right into where Jared had been standing.

JARED (TO JUSTIN) Thanks.

JUSTIN Yeah.

CUT TO:

INT. MAIN HOUSE - STAIRCASE TO SECOND FLOOR - CONTINUOUS

Saber goes up the staircase, Patrick following closely behind him, climbing up to see -

INT. MAIN HOUSE - SECOND FLOOR - CONTINUOUS

A man ducks out of sight. Saber calls to him.

SABER

Khaled!

Saber waits with his carbine raised. Anxiety crosses his face. He's vulnerable here, an easy target if Khaled were to come out blasting.

SABER (CONT'D)

KHALED!

CUT TO:

103.

INT. SECOND FLOOR HALLWAY

Khaled hears his name being called from below. A few feet away from him in the dimly lit hall is a loaded AK-47. He goes to the gun and picks it up.

He hears his name again, "Khaled!" And the voice sounds friendly, urgent.

Perhaps thinking that he can surrender peacefully, Khaled puts the gun down, resting it against a wall, and turns and heads back to the sound of his name.

Saber sees Khaled poke his head around the corner of the stairway and fires - killing him instantly.

Saber pushes past the body, Patrick following, and they climb the staircase leading to the third floor.

CUT TO:

EXT. COMPOUND - STREET

The neighborhood, awakened by the crash and gunfire, stirs to life. Hakim and the SEALs notice LIGHTS flipping on. And down the block, a group of several young men appear on a roof.

SEAL

(raising his weapon)

This is Echo 05, I've got unknowns gathering on the Southwest Rooftops. Hakim, move those guys back.

HAKIM

(speaking in Pashto)

Go back brothers, this is official government business, and there is nothing to see here!!

SEAL
I'm going to start wasting them.

HAKIM
Please! They will kill you!
The onlookers pause. SEAL aiming lasers dance across their chests.

HAKIM (CONT'D)
They will kill you!
They turn and go.

INT. MAIN HOUSE - SECOND FLOOR - HALLWAY

- SEALS clear the SECOND floor as women and children flow into the hallway... A SEAL grabs one of the wives and pulls her out into the hallway, while another female disappears behind a large REFRIGERATOR, and he grabs her too.

INT. MEDIA ROOM - SECOND FLOOR - CONTINUOUS

Justin opens a file cabinet, stuffed with documents.

INT. MAIN HOUSE SECOND TO THIRD FLOOR STAIRWAY

Saber is climbing the stairs, gun up, towards the third floor, when he sees a flash of movement across the landing above him. He stops climbing and -

SABER
Osama! Osama!?
Beat.
Beat.
Sweat on Saber's face

Osama!?
A man appears at the end of the third floor hallway.
-- Sssht ! a bullet strikes him in the head - knocking him back into a bedroom
- Saber fires again, missing
- And proceeds down the hallway, going full speed now, Patrick right behind him, sprinting into the bedroom

INT. MAIN HOUSE OSAMA'S LIVING QUARTERS

Two women stand at the entrance of the room. Saber rushes them and with a football tackle, slams them into the wall. Patrick enters the room and fires several rounds into the man on the floor.

PATRICK

(INTO RADIO)

Possible jackpot.

The women Saber is restraining are wailing, struggling to get to their husband, as a ten year-old boy rushes up to the body.

105.

Patrick pushes him away and kneels down to get a better look at the body.

PATRICK (CONT'D)

(TO SABER)

Dude, do you realize what you just did?

CUT TO:

INT. MAIN HOUSE - THIRD FLOOR ROOM - HALLWAY

JARED questions the wives.

JARED

(IN ARABIC)

Who is he?

WOMAN

He is al Noori Hasan.

JARED

(shouting back to PATRICK)

She says it's not him.

PATRICK

Talk to a kid.

Jared kneels down next to a nine year-old girl huddled in the corner and snaps open a chem light. He gives her the glowing green wand.

JARED

(IN ARABIC)

Daughter, what is his name?
The girl makes no reply.

While he places charges, another SEAL climbs up to affix charges to the roof and rotors ...and like a tight roper, he walks out on the tail of the helicopter, when suddenly his foot slips, piercing the tail's thin skin, and he nearly falls off. He manages to place a last charge - but the remainder of the tail piece will not be detonated.
